Let the People of Bangor Read the Following and Judge for Themselves!

Extracts from Circulars issued by the Bangor Commercial in conjunction with the Boston Journal.

"The Boston Journal's edition of the great Encyclopædia Britannica is the only Large Type Edition ever published in this country. It is a complete reproduction of the original Edinburg Edition, of 25 large quarto volumes, with each separate volume brought up to date with the American revisions and additions."

"The revision consists wholly in adding to the original, and not a line is taken away."

Extracts from Bangor Commercial, July 26, under "Statement of Fact."

"The work (the edition of Britannica now offered by the Commercial) is not a reprint of an old edition, as has been falsely stated within 48 hours in this city; it is a photographic copy of the last Edinburg edition, the ninth, the latest publication of this particular encyclopædia in print, with the American copyrighted articles rewritten to date by eminent American authors." ...... "With the single exception of these copyrighted articles, therefore, which, "indeed, cover only about 165 pages of the whole edition, of over 20,000 pages, the edition offered by the Commercial is an exact copy of the very latest edition of Britannica."

Statement by Charles Scribner's Sons,

The Only Publishers of the Genuine Encyclopædia Britannica in this Country.

CAUTION.—All alleged "Reprints" of "The Encyclopædia Britannica," whether by photographic "process" or by resetting the type, are incomplete, inaccurate, and, by reason of serious mutilations of the text, unreliable for purposes of reference."

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The Bangors Drop Another Game to Portland.

Inability to Hit Sullivan and Poor Support for Braham the Cause.

Brockton Loses Also and Pawtucket Comes Right Up on Our Heels.

New England League.

[Special to Whig and Courier.]

PORTLAND, July 26. The Bangors were mere pigmies before big Mike Sullivan to-day and only two of the visitors succeeded in reaching as far as third base. Of their four single hits all came after there were two out. Little Braham was hit hard and his support was not up to the mark. Spill played brilliantly. The crowd was one of the most enthusiastic of the season. Attendance 700. The score:

BANGOR VESSEL SUNK.

The Schooner Addie G. Bryant Run Down by a Steamer—Crew Had Narrow Escape.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., July 26. Schooner Addie G. Bryant, of Bangor, Maine, Clay, Philadelphia for Rockland, Me., with a cargo of coal, was run into by the steamer Lebanon, Boston for Philadelphia, towing three barges, off Pollock Rip about 12.30 this morning. The Bryant sank almost immediately. Capt. Clay and the crew had barely time to save themselves in their yawl boat.

The Lebanon collided with the barges and the captain and crew pulled to Pollock Rip lightship, where they remained until daylight, when they boarded the steam tug Mercury and were afterward transferred to the steam tug Juno for Boston. Capt. Handerson of the steam tug Mercury reports that the Bryant sank about three-quarters of a mile west from Pollock Rip lightship in the channel and is a dangerous obstruction to navigation.

NEW YORK, July 26. General O. O. Howard's roll of honor of the Congregational Home Missionary Society, which was originated at its annual meeting in Saratoga, June 5th, by General Howard's payment of $100 toward the society's debt and his invitation to 1400 other Congregationalists to give a similar amount, includes $13,600 and the fund is growing. Workers on the field have been furnished this week with materials for laying the facts and appeal before the friends of the society and a rapid increase of the subscriptions is anticipated.

HORRIBLE CRIMES.

Theory Regarding Holmes' Murder of Mrs. Connor.

Believed She Was Asphyxiated, Cut to Pieces and Cremated.

Holmes Likely to be Tried in Place Where Evidence is Strongest.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26. When District Attorney Graham was asked to-day what action he would take upon the demand of the Toronto authorities for H. H. Holmes, he replied that he had not given the matter the slightest thought and would not until the question came before him officially. He has declared repeatedly that he will send Holmes wherever the case against him is the strongest.

Theories of Horrible Crime.

CHICAGO, July 26. Col. Jonathan L. Belknap, great uncle of the Wilmette wife of Holmes, made a statement to the effect that Mrs. Julia L. Connor was killed by Holmes in the Englewood building four and a half years ago.

His theory is that Holmes entered her room by a secret door, killed her by turning on the gas, and carried her body to the bath tub, cut it to pieces and fed the parts to the stove fire. When the process of cremation was complete Holmes carried the bones to the cellar and buried them in quicklime.

Col. Belknap was one of the men whom Holmes tried to victimize. He and his wife passed Christmas with Holmes and Mrs. Connor and he helped Holmes carry a stove through a secret door into the bath room adjoining Mrs. Connor's room the same night Mrs. Connors disappeared.

MYSTIC PARK RACES.

The Last Day's Events Stubbornly Contested.

BOSTON, July 26. There was a fair attendance at the last day's racing at Mystic Park. In the 2.14 pacing there was a strong leaning to Socks but Maud P. was quite a favorite. It was stubbornly contested. Proteen was a strong favorite in the 2.16 class, while Zembia had a strong following. In the fifth heat Wild Oats, who finished no better than 8th in other heats, won easily in 2.14¾, lowering his mark from 2.16¼. Eliza K. was a strong favorite in the 2.20 pacing.

The 2.14 pace, purse $600, 7 starters, Sea Bird, ch h, by Lord Russell, dam Nalad, by Belmont (Carpenter), won in 6 heats; Maud P., g m, by Frank A., dam Finney Mare, by Luke Osiatoga (Bever), second; others ruled out or distanced. Best time, 2.13½.

The 2.16 class, purse $600, 10 starters, Protean, b m, by Glenwold, dam Portia, by Startle (Titer), won in 8 heats; Wild Oats, br g, by Norwood, dam untraced (Golden), second; Col. Owen, b g, by Chief Clark, dam Topsy, by Confederate Chief (Bither), third. Best time, 2.13½.

The 2.20 pace, purse $600, 9 starters, Eliza K., ch m, by Robert Rysdyk; dam by Jester D. (Rathburn), won in 3 heats; R. H. D., br h (Demurest), second; Limber Boy, b g (Cook), third. Best time, 2.14.

Miss Anthony Slightly Ill, but Did Not Pass Away.

TOLEDO, O., July 26. A report reached this city to-night that Miss Susan B. Anthony had died suddenly at Lakeside, Ohio, this afternoon, but it was learned later that the only foundation for the rumor was the fact that Miss Anthony had been taken ill during the morning with fainting spells. Her indisposition proved to be nothing serious.

The city council, Valentine hose company and directors and officers of the Westbrook Trust Company, of which he was president, attended in a body, also Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Judge Percival Bonney and a number of custom house officials of Portland. The floral tributes were beautiful. The eight pall bearers were the oldest citizens of the city, their united age being 668 years, and average age 83 years. The funeral oration was by Mr. Hayden and the services were very impressive. The town turned out this evening and all the Chautauquans on the grounds filled the grand auditorium to listen to a concert given by the above ladies with Prof. Cooke as reader and elocutionist. Everything now promises a most successful assembly.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Volume of Business Not Changed Materially.

Most Striking Features Are Influences in Improved Crop Prospects.

Trade in Almost All Lines Is Fairly Active for the Season.

NEW YORK, July 26. Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: The most striking features of the business week are the influences in improved crop prospects and continued large demands for iron and steel, with one of the largest makers in the market as a buyer of bessemer pig. Most of the commercial and industrial features of the preceding week are retained. The volume of trade was not varied materially, and in instances is larger than at the corresponding period of last year. Trade in almost all lines is fairly active for the season, and the general tendency of mercantile collections is toward greater ease.

Commercial travelers are being sent out on all leading lines and reports from those now on the road appear to meet expectations.

The total bank clearings in the United States this week are $927,000,000, a decrease of about 10 per cent. from the week before and an increase of fully 20 per cent. compared with the last week of July, 1894. Contrasted with the corresponding total of 1893 this week's gain is 4 per cent., compared with the last week in July, 1892, a falling off of six per cent.

The price record this week is rather more pronounced in showing the strength of the upward tendency than last week or the week before.

Among the more important staples lard alone is reported lower. Among the long list of staples for which prices are unchanged are wool, cotton, corn, sugar, pork, flour, brown and bleached cottons and copper. More conspicuous advances are found in wheat, bessemer pig iron and steel billets. There were advances in the quotations for leather, oats, coffee, print cloths and in galvanized and black sheets. Among the larger eastern cities no striking changes in the condition of trade is reported with the exception of an improvement in industrial lines, and in the lake trade at Buffalo, and a rather smaller volume of business reported from Baltimore.

Pittsburg iron furnaces are sold months ahead. Central Western cities, among them Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville, report the usual volume of midsummer business, with perhaps more activity relatively at Louisville. Fair orders are being received by jobbers and merchants at Chicago and St. Louis, and no pronounced revival in the demand for fall delivery is expected there until after August 1, the country merchants preferring to await corn crop prospects at that time before giving out orders.

Iron and steel industries there are refusing orders except at full prices. A fair business is reported from Kansas City and the rains throughout Kansas are expected to improve the demand in the near future. Excellent crop prospects in Nebraska resulted in more activity at Omaha, where trade in some lines is in excess of 1894. At northwestern cities—Milwaukee, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Sioux Falls—there is the customary volume of mid-summer business, with prospects of a greatly improved fall trade.

The lake tariff has increased and flour and lumber industries are more active, and jobbers in general lines anticipate an early increase in the demand for staples. The feature of the week at the South is in a rather more satisfactory report from Memphis, Chattanooga, Augusta and Galveston, where orders have been received in some instances in excess of expectations and the volume of business is larger than the corresponding period of last year. At such points as Charleston, Savannah and New Orleans no material change is reported compared with a week ago, and the like is true at Birmingham.

Atlanta reports rather less doing in dry goods, notions, and groceries, but the outlook for trade this fall is good. The volume of business has fallen off at Jacksonville. The most disturbing influence in Louisiana is the withholding of payments of the sugar bounty.

The most conservative reports on the Pacific coast from Portland, where the trend of trade is fair. San Francisco ranks next with a generally improving condition of business.

The price of wheat is steady and a large number of vessels is afloat for that port to load with wheat. Seattle announces damage to the wheat crop in Washington and not all the hop crop there will be picked because of the low price—probably not over 20,000 bales. Business is more active at Tacoma, where the importations of tea and heavy exports of lumber are increasing.

The quantity of wheat exported this week (flour included) is 1,265,000 bushels from both coasts of the United States and from Montreal, compared with 3,388,000 in the fourth week of July, 1894. The present week's wheat shipments are the smallest sent out since the first week in June, 1891.

The number of failures in the United States this week is 237, against 237 in the week a year ago.

INDIAN MASSACRE.

Settlers at Jackson's Hole Reported Killed.

All the Houses Burned After Settlers Had Been Killed.

Further News from the Place Awaited with Great Anxiety.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 26. A courier who arrived at Market Lake, Idaho, this evening reported that all the settlers in Jackson's Hole had been murdered by the Indians and all the houses burned.

He could give no particulars of the alleged massacre, but said a companion attempted to reach the scene of the trouble and if he escaped the Indians he would undoubtedly reach Market Lake within 24 hours with details of the fight.

Further news from Jackson's Hole is awaited with anxiety.

RELIGION IN SUNDAY PAPERS.

Association Organized to Furnish Papers With Readable Sermons.

BOSTON, July 26. The Newspaper Sermon Association organized under the laws of Massachusetts was yesterday incorporated in Boston. Its purpose is to furnish Sunday papers with readable, non-sectarian religious matter. These sermons are to come from the pens of the best moral and spiritual writers of the world and are intended to bring the churchless Sunday reader into a purer and higher plane of thought than is developed by the average contents of the Sunday papers.

The association is the outcome of a series of circulars sent to various newspapers and representatives of the church, regarding the feeling existing relative to united action between the press and pulpit in a common effort to enlighten-ment.

The executive committee is composed of Charles H. Taylor, editor of the Boston Globe; Rev. George Hodges, Wm. E. Harmon, the latter president of the association for the ensuing year.

Nearly all the large dailies of the country have signified a desire to co-operate in the movement and many prominent clergymen are committed to furnish material. Funds have been provided to run the organization for a year. The material selected is to be measured by its power to interest the masses.

FIRE RECORD.

A Blaze in Chicago Friday.

CHICAGO, July 26. Fire in the fibre warehouse of the Deering harvester works to-day damaged the stock $20,000.

Bar Silver Market.

LONDON, July 26—2.15 P. M. The bar silver market is dull, quoted at 30 5-16d an ounce.

Telegraphic Notes.

Fire Thursday evening at Philadelphia destroyed the waste mill of Wm. J. Lloyd and Delaney & Company's glue and curled hair factory. Delaney & Company's loss on stock and machinery is $50,000 and Lloyd's, on stock, $2,000. The loss on the two buildings is about $50,000. The loss is nearly all covered by insurance.

A large number of counterfeit silver quarters, dated 1894, have been placed in circulation in the city within a few days. The coin is apparently perfect in die and the milling can only be detected by the ring.

A Willimantic, Conn., despatch says: State Attorney Hunter went to East Thompson, Thursday, to make further investigations in the Storjewski murder case. Upon his return at night he announced the discovery of new clues, but refused to give them out. The trial of the Polander will take place in September.

Judge Murphy of San Francisco, Thursday denied the motion for a change of decision in the Durant case. He gave the defendant leave to renew it later if the attorneys deemed it necessary.

To the Chicago police Thursday, Mrs. W. L. Doyle, a friend of Mrs. Quinlan, said an aunt of hers owned the house in Toronto where the two Pietzel children were found dead. Her aunt rented the house to Holmes.

Dime Savings Bank Trouble.

Within the past few days there has been considerable criticism in banking circles in regard to the way ex-Bank Commissioner E. A. Buck has conducted the examinations of the Dime Savings Bank at Willimantic, Conn.

It has been asserted that considerable blame rests on him for the present conditions of the bank. Mr. Buck has always been considered a man of irreproachable character and well up in banking matters, and fully capable of occupying the position he held. The last examination Mr. Buck made of the bank was June 15, just previous to his turning over the office to his successor, Sydney W. Crofut. At that examination the bank had assets of $627,080.46 and was in a perfectly solvent condition.

On July 21, Mr. Crofut made an examination after the scale of 16 per cent. was declared and placed the liabilities at $491,982, and the assets at $489,301.61, pronouncing the bank insolvent. Mr. Buck procured a statement from Crofut and after a comparative examination with the one made by him June 15, gave the result to a press representative Thursday night.

Mr. Buck's statement corresponds with Crofut's in every respect, with the exception of three items. Mr. Buck places the expense account at $531.64; safe and fixtures, $3,411.64; cash on hand, $5,733.02. Mr. Crofut put the above items at $2,904.76. Assuming that Mr. Buck's appraisal of the three items are correct, it will leave, according to Mr. Crofut's statement, a deficiency in the assets of about $1,800, which is all that Walden could have possibly taken away with him. Mr. Buck considers that a large amount of paper, which Crofut has wiped out as of doubtful value, is collectable, and the dividends coming from the Morrison Company and Allentown transaction place the bank in a solvent condition to-day, and prepared to do business. Mr. Buck's theory is that if there was any stealing done it probably was $25,000 Walden might have used to put into the Morrison Company. In his opinion, to appoint a receiver would be the worst step the depositors could take, as it would take a number of years to wind up the affairs of the institution, with a probable loss of about two-thirds of the deposits.

Kelley and Sumner returned from Allentown Thursday and were at the meeting of the directors in the evening. The deal was transferred from Walden to the bank and accepted by the directors. This means that the bank will receive $9,300 in the transaction. The condition of the Dime Savings Bank occasioned a slight run on the Willimantic Savings Institute, but it stands ready to meet all demands and is paying off depositors in gold. The directors have decided not to offer a reward for the arrest of Walden for the reason that if a receiver is appointed he may refuse to pay it, and that they did not consider it the proper thing to use the money of the depositors for such a purpose.

German, Norwegian and British Steamers And a Ship Go Down.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26. A violent hurricane was reported to-day by cable to the American Exchange to have swept the coast of Japan, during which many vessels were wrecked and their crews drowned. The information of the loss of life is meagre.

The cablegram was sent from Euchicotzu. The German steamship Helen Rickmore, the Norwegian steamships Lyderhorn, Herman Webel and Jaristrug, the British steamship Bentala, and ship Manuel Suchet, from Philadelphia were all blown ashore and all are believed to have been totally wrecked except the Bentala.

The loss of life on shore is reported large.

Ship Manuel Suchet sailed from this port four months ago for Hiogo, Japan, with a cargo of oil. She was a first-class iron vessel with a crew of 27 men. She had discharged her cargo and was getting under way for San Francisco when the hurricane struck her.

Municipal Court.

In the Municipal Court yesterday Benjamin Garfink was tried for breaking and entering the branch market of Alfred Jones' Sons, on Kenduskeag bridge, and was fined $10 and costs, which was paid by his parents. Garfink at the trial said that the first time he entered the market he was accompanied by another boy, whose name he said he did not know, but the other times he went in alone.

The other cases in court yesterday were for drunkenness. Patrick Kilroy and Ole Olson were sentenced to pay the costs; Joseph Eddy, Daniel O'Neil and Joseph Segar were fined $3 and costs each.

LACTATED FOOD.

Every Poorly Nourished Baby Liable to Its Attack.

A Rich Nutritive Relished in Hottest Weather.

BABY WATERS.

Every thin, pale-lipped, underfed baby is a shining mark for wasting diarrhoeal disorders that put in their appearance with the advent of hot weather. Yet every death from an intestinal disorder shows either neglect or ignorance on the part of the parents.

The only safety for pale, weak, sickly babies is to keep up their strength without irritating their intestines, and this great problem of feeding delicate babies in hot weather has been solved to the complete satisfaction of hosts of mothers by lactated food.

It is a perfect substitute for healthy, vigorous, mother's milk, and the one infant food which possesses the best scientific combination of all the elements necessary to the complete nutrition of the growing child.

It has saved thousands of infant lives, and its praises have been said by thousands of grateful, happy mothers.

Read the following letter from Francis T. Waters, Principal of the Gregory Normal Institute, Wilmington, N. C., whose beautiful baby's picture is printed above.

"I send you with this a picture of our little girl, whose health is due to lactated food. One year ago, we stopped using lactated food and tried another, but soon her bowels became irregular, and we returned to lactated food. She is just past two years old, has all her teeth, and is the healthiest, merriest, rosiest little girl you ever saw. We have not had a doctor's bill to pay and have the sweetest and best baby in the world. I can speak in the highest terms of your lactated food for children."

[illegible]

[illegible] compelled to im[port] [illegible] pounds of wool as [illegible] for the year [illegible] only 50 000 000 [illegible] year ending June [illegible] fiscal year under the McKinley [illegible] foreigners are sup[plying] [illegible] much more of our wool [illegible] are feeling more wool and [illegible] although advancing are still be[low] what they were on September 1, 1894 when the Wilson Gorman law was passed and 50 per cent below what they were on March 4 1893 when General Harrison left the White House If there is anything in it for the Democrats [illegible] they must take pride in seeing American industries destroyed and foreign industries built up

The decline in the home production has been of course due to the fact that American farmers cannot pay American wages and compete with the much cheaper labor of China, Russia, South America and other countries When Cleveland was inaugurated the declared policy of his Administration in favor of free wool began at once to alarm the wool growers

The free trade price of wool was anticipated and wool dropped from March, 1893 to March, 1895 measured by the standard grade of XX Ohio, from a little over 30 cents to about 15 cents, and the wool growers, believing that there was no future for the wool industry sold their flocks in countless numbers to the butchers, so that the clip of 189- fell off to 328,000,000 pounds, and that of 1895, just clipped, to only 264,000,000 pounds —a decrease, therefore, in the two years since Cleveland's inauguration of 100,000,000 pounds To make up for this deficit in the American clip we are compelled to import wool to take the place of the American wool destroyed to the great extent already noted. For the fiscal year of 1896 we will probably have to go to foreign nations for 208,000,000 pounds of raw wool. This takes no account of the imports of shoddy, rags, waste, etc, which are entered as manufactures of wool, for in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, which was the last fiscal year under the McKinley law, we imported only 134,774 pounds of shoddy, rags, waste, etc, but during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and almost all of it in ten months after the passage of the Wilson law, we imported 14,772,000 pounds of shoddy, waste, etc—an increase of over 1000 per cent This was made necessary, first by the destruction of the American clip and, second, by the low duties upon manufacturers of wool, and the ad valorem features of the latter, which permits undervaluation and compels American manufacturers to increase their use of shoddy Never in the history of the wool business in America has it been necessary to use so many cheap adulterants in order to prevent our manufacturers from being driven out of their home market by the shoddy goods admitted under the ad valorem rates of the new tariff law

The shortage in the American clip caused no alarm so long as foreign markets appeared to be glutted and foreign prices were declining, and it was only when it was discovered that the great bulk of foreign wools were not so well adapted as domestic to certain uses of American manufacturers, that an effort was made to secure the clip in wool growing sections and before it could come to market The competition advanced prices in the clip sections to more than the wools were worth in either the seaboard or London markets The full extent of the shortage of the domestic clip and its influence on prices was then realized The attention of speculators was then attracted to the reduced supply and the bulk of the clip of 1895 was soon cornered This led Americans to rush into the London market for certain kinds of wool, causing a slight advance In other words it is a small advance due to a shortage in the wool crop

In their circular, Justice, Bateman & [Co] call attention to the fact that the consumption of wool in the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895 was the largest on record, and not only exceeded by over 19 000 000 pounds that of 1893 (which was the largest then on record) but exceeded by over 77 000,000 pounds the average of the past five fiscal years In arriving at this estimate, imported manufactures of wool are reduced to the basis of raw wool in the proportion of three pounds of unwashed to every dollar in value in goods This increased consumption came at a time when there was a shortage in the American clip brought about by the slaughter (during the past two years of discouragement to the industry) of countless numbers of sheep reducing the American clip within that time to the extent certainly of 64,000 000 pounds and most probably of 100 000 000 pounds

Hence with a much larger consumption and a much smaller production American wool growers still have to take very much less per pound for their wool This takes sixty millions of dollars from the wool growers causing hard times in the West and the demand for relief in the way of cheap money The loss to wool growers amounted to $40 000 000 a year Then the sending abroad of large sums to pay for foreign wool makes the matter still worse If the wool tariff had been left alone as it stood under the McKinley law and the increased production had continued at the same ratio five years from now the production would have exceeded the amount consumed

What is true of wool is true of other things The country has suffered untold losses by the change in the tariff law

BODY FOUND IN CHARLES RIVER

Police Think It a Case of Outrage and Murder

BOSTON July 26 The body of a young woman was found floating in the Charles river opposite the Charles Bank gymnasium this forenoon The young woman was dressed in a pink and white striped wrapper black stockings new low cut shoes and fine ankle clothing She was five feet tall weighed about 110 pounds light complexion dark hair and prepossessing features

The body is that of Alberta Stuart 14 years old a pupil at the Bowdoin Square school who lived with her sister at 8 Myrtle street The girl left her home Tuesday and has not been seen since She resided with her only sister who kept a lodging house and it is said by neighbors that she was not allowed the freedom other young girls of her age in that vicinity had It is also said that she was frequently punished for little or nothing and this thing alone preyed on her mind

She told her playmates that her life was miserable and she did not care to live in that place One girl with whom Alberta associated says that last Monday Alberta told her she received a whipping and tried to cut her throat Miss Maggie Stuart, the sister, denies that she ill treated the girl and says that she was allowed advantages that a good many girls of her age were not She did not know of any scar on the girl's neck and said she punished her only when she was stubborn

Miss Stuart is a pleasant looking woman and presents every appearance of refinement She is comfortably situated at 89 Myrtle street and from appearances the girl had everything that could be desired

The autopsy which was made by the medical examiner showed evidence that the girl had been criminally assaulted The police are at work on the case which they think is one of outrage and murder

Telegraphic Notes

Great excitement was created Thursday, at Putnam Conn by the finding of a box containing human bones The discovery was immediately connected with the East Thompson murder case About two weeks ago old Buck Hill tavern on the Connecticut line, notorious as a road house was burned Thursday a crowd of relic hunters was searching in the ruins and in a dark spot in the cellar one of the number came upon a box which being opened, disclosed human bones The bones were those of a person small in stature a woman or a boy The nearness of the old house to East Thompson the scene of the Storjewski murder, led to the conclusion that the bones were those of one of the Pole's victims and the report was circulated that Rosa Storjewski's body had been found The bones evidently had been in the box a number of years Old residents believe they are the remains of a former occupant of the old tavern

Jack O Connor, one of the catchers of the Cleveland base ball club, began a suit at Cleveland, Thursday, against the National League and the Cleveland club to enjoin the collection of a $25 fine imposed by Umpire Murray in Tuesday's Cleveland-Washington game The petition alleges that Murray is an incompetent umpire and the fine was imposed without cause It is understood that President Robison of the Cleveland club is backing O Connor, as he desires a test made of the league rule which gives umpires the right to fine players indiscriminately

At Taylor's Park, Freeport, Il, Thursday afternoon, Sulphide made a mile in 2 13¼, it being the fastest mile made this season for 4-year-old pacers.

A serious case of neglect, if reports are true, came to light Thursday at the Haverhill, Mass, almshouse. George Doughton has been an inmate of the house for some time, and is paralyzed and out of his head It is claimed that the man has bed sores and has gone without treatment till he is covered with vermin. It is admitted that Dr. F. H Allen found vermin. The superintendent claims that the wounds are washed three times a day, but that the vermin cannot be got rid of. City officials have commenced an investigation which will be most searching, and sensational developments are expected.

Ex-Gov. Russell, of Massachusetts, has declined to consider the proposition that he stand as candidate for the presidency of the league of American wheelmen.

STILL ANOTHER VICTIM.

Holmes Case Grows More Horrible Every Hour,

Has Committed More Murders than Is Yet Known.

Another Girl Missing but Police Will Not Give Name.

Chicago July 26—Startling disclosures were made last night to the chief of police and his subordinate officers engaged in the Holmes investigation by Patrick Quinlan, the trusted friend and former employe of the alleged wholesale murderer He gave information which convinced the police that Holmes made away with Miss Kitty Kelly, who was employed by him as his clerk at the drug store in Englewood Quinlan gave the police a picture which he said was that of the missing girl He will be examined again today At midnight Chief Badenoch said the case was growing more horrible and mysterious every hour and he was sure Holmes had committed more murders than the world had yet been apprised of

Further Developments

CHICAGO, July 26 The energies of the police who are investigating the Holmes case were devoted this morning to an inquiry into the fate of Miss Emaline Cigrand, of Lafeyette, Ind, who is supposed to be the latest victim Doctors B J & P J Cigrand, second cousins of the girl, were closeted with Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick all the morning. They told how their cousin went to work for Holmes as a stenographer and how she was afterward believed to have married a man named Robert E Phelphs who was interested in a fake copying business down town, of which Holmes was the head

A careful search of the marriage records made by the clerk fails to show that there was any record of such a marriage in Cook county

It is the belief of the Cigrand brothers that Miss Cigrand was murdered by Holmes and that Robert E Phelphs was no other than the swindler under an alias Certainly no such person was ever heard of in connection with the business down town, except through Holmes himself

The police claim that still another girl is missing but refuse to tell her name They admit she is a Chicago girl, but beyond this they will say nothing Inspector Fitzpatrick showed a photograph of the girl who is supposed to be missing to a reporter of the United Press, but carefully concealed the name written on the bottom of it

We have little doubt that the subject of this photograph has gone to join the long list of those who fell in the clutches of this fiend Holmes, said the inspector The picture was that of a trim little brunette with short curly hair Around her neck which was exposed by a low necked dress, was a string of what appeared to be amber beads

Chief Badenoch said he would state positively that the girl was not Kittie Kelley, the stenographer who was named in the morning paper as the one missing

AMMEN RAM A FAILURE

Admitted by Officials of the Navy Department

BOSTON, July 26 A special from Washington to the Globe says The officials of the Navy Department are forced to admit somewhat reluctantly that the Ammen ram is a failure, which if true, will be the first failure on record since the work of building up the new navy inaugurated by Secretary Whitney was practically put into execution

At the time when Admiral Ammen first projected his ram there were many naval officials who were disposed to question its practical utility, but Congress authorized its construction and made the necessary appropriations The vessel has only a few light guns designed principally to repel the attacks of torpedo boats, its offensive weapon consisting of a heavy and unusually strong ram with which it is intended the vessel is to ram and sink the enemy ship Such a vessel, to be a success, must not only be fast enough to overhaul the ship it intends to ram, but also be able to escape from the enemy

While it can ram and would probably be able to send to the bottom a battle ship many times its size and tonnage it would be defenseless against a comparative small cruiser. The ram, however, has never been able to make the seventeen knots required by the contract and some of the officials in the navy department are frank enough to say they do not believe the speed can be gotton out of the ship On her contractors' trial it was found that it threw up too much water forward and half buried herself in the waves, which was one reason assigned for the loss of speed.

It was thought that if the pitch of the propellers was changed an additional knot or so might be gained, and the bureau of steam engineering of the navy has been engaged in designing plans for the new propellers It is not known when the vessel will be ready to be given another trip by her contractors, or when the official trial will take place

CASE ON TRIAL

Portland Packing Co Against Dominion Coal Co

Portland July 26—In the United States District Court this morning was begun the trial of the libels of the Portland Packing Co owners of the cargo of canned lobsters and Wm Morris owner and master of the schooner Valorous, against the steamer Louisburg of the Dominion Coal Co

On the 9th of July in a dense fog while the schooner was proceeding from Cape Sable to Halifax and the steamer was proceeding on her way to Portland there was a collision by which the schooner was sunk and her cargo badly damaged The crew were taken on board the steamer and later sent to Halifax.

The libel of the owners of the schooner and cargo claim that the collision was the fault of the steamer They say that in the fog the steamer was discovered on the port bow but no sound of the steamer's whistle had been heard The steamer was in such a position and going at considerable speed, that she would have passed safely across the bow of the schooner if no change of course had been made. The steamer ported her helm and struck the schooner, the latter having been held on her course The schooner had been blowing a fog horn as required by law.

Capt. Gould, of the Louisburg, replies that he was running at half speed and blowing his whistle as required by law. The schooner was discovered about 100 yards away. If he had kept on his course, he would have collided with the schooner inevitably. He ported his helm, reversed his engines full speed astern and shouted to the schooner not to luff. The steamer came to a full stop, but the schooner having luffed stopped also and wind and wave sent her against his stern.

The counsel for libellants are Benj. Thompson and Symonds, Snow and Cook. The counsel for the steamer are Clarence Hale, of Portland, and Louis Dabney, of Boston.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Cuba's Trade With United States

Washington, July 26. The department of state has received a report from Consul W B Barker at Sagua LeGrande Cuba, on the trade of Cuba with the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895 The report gives the Cuban exports as $4,750 883 Of this amount American vessels carried $1 241 187 British $2 397 215 Spanish $818 550 Germany $78,604 and Norwegian $215,129

One reason for the scarcity of American as compared with foreign vessels in Cuban ports says Mr Barker is the onerous fines inflicted for such trifling port charges to say nothing of the vial matters as a clerical error in a ship's manifest Effort has been made to relieve American vessels of these charges but without effect

The amount of imports carried in American bottoms is given at $99 048 It was impossible to obtain the imports carried in the vessels of the other nations The revocation of the reciprocity treaty by Spain together with the impoverished condition of the sugar industry have reduced the imports from the United States with the exception of coal and lumber with small cargoes of flour to an insignificant figure as compared with other years

It is unfortunate says the consul that such a check has been put upon the importation of American flour into Cuba Under existing requirements of Spain's import duties on American products shipped direct to Cuba flour is brought from Spain for $1 50 per bag of 200 pounds less cost than it can be imported from the United States direct Yet those who can afford it buy the American flour its grade being so far superior and even the bakers having the trade of the better class use American flour

Mr Barker says that American flour could and should in his opinion be made the largest of the imports

BROCKTON POLICE

Concealed the Whereabouts of a Mrs Tobin

BOSTON, July 26 In the Supreme Court to day Judge Allen issued a writ of habeas corpus on the petition brought by Edgar Tobin of Brockton vs Lemuel F Sport and Oliver D Appleton ordering them to release the petitioner's wife from custody The respondents are Brockton police officers On July 4 they are alleged to have taken Mrs Tobin from her home in Brockton, while her husband was at work against her will and since concealed her whereabouts her husband not being able to find out where she is It is surmised, however that she is somewhere on the Island of Nantucket Mr Tobin is a mechanic in a Brockton shoe factory He is about thirty years of age and his wife about the same age She was a witness for the government before the grand jury at Plymouth that indicted Arthur A Albee last month for alleged murder

It is thought the police officers assumed to act because of the relations she bore to the case and took her off where no one could avail themselves of what she knew about the case but it is said that there was no order of court to warrant them to take such an extraordinary step

Mrs Tobin, by virtue of the writ if found, will be brought into court The case will probably come up about the middle of next week

BOLD AND INSOLENT

Acting Indian Agent Beck and Wife Make Things Lively at Agency

PENDER, Neb July 26 Captain Wm H Beck, tenth United States cavalry, acting Indian agent in charge of the Omaha and Winnebago reservations, is accused of insulting the Nebraska congressional delegation in his office at the Winnebago agency, Wednesday night He would have ordered the senator and congressmen from the room had it not been for Senator Allen

Mrs Beck, the captain's wife, also took a hand in the trouble She called Senator Thurston an insolent man and an insulting meddler She designated the congressmen as cheap politicians claiming to represent Congress and advised the captain to order them from his office

The attitude of the captain was bold insolent and hot headed, and for a few moments matters at the agency were decidedly lively He declined to welcome the delegation, did not invite them to dine, and let them ride all night to Pender They are very indignant and say they will recommend his removal

The following telegram was sent last night to the Secretary of the Interior signed by the whole congressional delegation present at the recent investigation, in addition to a letter of 1,000 words

The investigation now in order leads us to urge you to suspend the approval of leases of Winnebago lands made by Capt Beck, and to promptly suspend further evictions until we can communicate with you further Evictions will result in tremendous loss of crops to innocent settlers

At the last session of Congress an appropriation was made for the establishment of such a hatchery at some place in New Hampshire.

Mr. Atkins, who has been government fish commissioner for twenty years at East Orland, Maine, is favorably impressed with the plant at Livermore Falls and he will report to United States Commissioner Marshall MacDonald, who is also quite favorably impressed with the qualifications of the Livermore Falls hatchery. It is understood that the matter will be decided at an early date.

MAINE MESSAGE.

Breaking of a Staging Causes Bad Accident.

Fine Residences and Blocks in Piscataquis

Androscoggin

It seems that Cobbossee stream has more dead fish than usual and the fact is causing comment As at Lake Auburn opinions differ as to the cause The Gardiner Reporter-Journal has the following reference to the matter "Not a small amount of speculation has been indulged in by frequenters of the Cobbossee stream, as to what is causing the death of so many catfish or horned pouts, and the opinion has been expressed that an epidemic of some sort among the fish must be the cause We hardly think, however that this can be the solution, and it seems more probable that the fish are caught by those who consider them worthless as a food fish and thrown back into the water to die As a matter of fact the horned pout is by no means the despicable fish that he is generally considered He is not handsome to be sure but for a first-class chowder there are few fish that will fill the bill better than he The flesh is firm and of fine flavor, and bones are few, and in New York state horned pouts are considered a great delicacy Undoubtedly the prejudice against this fish is due more to his personal appearance than anything else "

A banana vender did a sensational act in Auburn Wednesday afternoon A little boy, not over four years old, was on the seat with him and they were coming down Court street hill, and when opposite High street the seat slipped off, striking the horse's heels and setting the animal running and kicking The banana man came down straddle of one of the thills, but he held the boy with one arm and handled the reins with the other, guiding the horse to the sidewalk At this point, Mr Lewis Young ran out from the High street laundry office and rescued the boy The team was stopped before it reached Auburn Hall, and neither the banana vender nor his boy hurt He had sold out his load of bananas before the accident occurred

By the breaking of a staging at a house on Farwell street, Lewiston Wednesday afternoon four men fell thirty feet to the ground Fred H Kimball, of Bridgton, suffered a fracture of his right leg at the ankle A F Goddard, of Lisbon Falls, came out of it with a sprained ankle, and W W Walker, of Bridgton, received a scalp wound Charles Allen, the fourth man on the staging, escaped with a few bruises The men were taken to their boarding houses in the city ambulance and surgeons promptly summoned

Dover Observer Building operations in our villages are being pushed forward with characteristic vigor Several new dwelling houses are well along towards completion Good progress is being made with repairs on Landers and Mayo's blocks, badly damaged by the Union Square fire The Chandler lots remain covered by the blackened ruins as the conflagration left them Not a brand has been picked up or removed The appearance is an unsightly one to contemplate If these lots are not to be built upon the least that can be done would be to clear them of the rubbish Mr James Bathgate has the frame of his new residence at the intersection of Main and Winter streets up and the outside boarding is in progress

Eastport Sentinel One of the prettiest parties ever enjoyed by the young people in Eastport was that given in the Armory last Wednesday evening by Messrs E Shead and George Hume The young lady friends of the young men helped to make an exquisite dancing hall of the building Young fir and spicy juniper, beautiful potted plants and cut flowers, were artistically arranged about the hall Yellow and white bunting festooned the ceiling, a small fir tree hanging from the center Our country's flag was conspicuous crossed on the walls between the pictures Groups of swords and guns helped in the decoration, while the "blue trunks" made capital lounges with their temporary gay coverings and pretty comfortable cushions About forty couples joined in the opening march to the inspiring strains of the elite orchestra, and it was conceded that they had never played better, nor could such music as they rendered during the evening be excelled—it was just perfect dancing music "Ned" Shead and his grandmother, Mrs Sophia Shead, who celebrated her 90th birthday on Sunday last, led the march, she stepping off as lightly and lively as the best of them

THE LONDON JOHNNIES

Sons of British Noblemen Shock Polite Society by Their Goings On.

Polite society in London has had another severe shock in the announcement that one of the most eligible young men in the matrimonial market has engaged himself to a pert young person playing a second rate part at the Gaiety theater The gentleman is Majoribanks, the eldest son of Lord Tweedmouth, one of the wealthiest of peers, and the lady is Miss Birdie Sutherland, better known perhaps as the sister of Lily Harold the comedienne and singer of plantation songs, at present gracing the Drury Lane pantomime Nobody has ventured to suggest that these two young women are not as good and virtuous as they are undeniably pretty, and it is a fact that they reside in a genteel suburb with their widowed mother and frequently take part in local church charity concerts, but all that with additional proof of severe respectability afforded by the fact that their father was a clerk in the Bank of England is scarcely sufficient to justify their ambition to contract an alliance with a family the head of which is a member of the British cabinet.

Lord Tweedmouth asked newspaper men in the commons lobby to contradict the report of his son's engagement, from which it may be assumed that he succeeded in arranging matters. But it would not be at all surprising if the match would be ratified after all. Young Majoribanks, who is familiarly known to the habitues of the Gaiety theater as "the Skipper," celebrated his majority the other day.

This infatuation is probably the result of the latest fad among the London Johnnies, who indulge in exciting rivalry to score the highest possible number of attendances in the front row of the stalls where the most popular entertainment is given. There is declared to be the finest aggregation of female loveliness just now in "The Shopgirl" on the Gaiety theater stage that was ever achieved in London. The same individuals fill the front stalls night after night. They are either very young or very old, but the young ones predominate. The Sun reporter in the lobby the other evening heard young Majoribanks boast to another sprig of nobility that it was his sixty-second attendance. The other appeared quite crestfallen He said it was only his forty-fifth.—London Cor. New York Sun.

The Ellsworth American reports that as Frank Whittmore and Charles Higgins were driving along the Waltham road in No 8 plantation Saturday night, they were attacked by highwaymen Heavy clubs were thrown from the road side, but fortunately missed their mark. The young men could not see their assailants in the darkness It is presumed they were tramps

GOOD WILL FARM

Great Days at East Fairfield During the Third Boys' Assembly

Our correspondent writes The third boys assembly at Good Will Farm has opened in fine form The weather has been fine and everything has conspired to assure success The cottages have been emptied of boys and filled with guests A dozen or more tents are occupied by the Good Will boys and visitors, and the field in front of the cottages looks quite like a general muster As usual Mr Hinckley has succeeded in calling to his aid those who have ability and willingness in making a very interesting and profitable programme

H W Winckley of Saco, has spoken interestingly three times on water Rev G A Matthews gives daily talks on the Bible Vugoro Chiba, a native of Japan, interests and delights by his description of life in his native land Mr Sumner Vinton, a young man born in Burmah, but now a student in Brown University, is giving a course of evening lectures on Burmah using the stereopticon The music is under the efficient direction of Rev F M Lamb of Kennebunkport, who is assisted at the organ by Miss Josie W Smith, of Skowhegan, and by Mr Thatcher H Guild of Providence, a cornetist, and Holding brothers of Lewiston violinists

The athletics are under the supervision of Mr W W Bustard, captain of the Brown University base ball nine, assisted by Mr Fred D Jordan, of Bangor Mr Jordan has a fine class of boys under his instruction in swimming Two interesting games of base ball have been played already by the Good Will nine and the nine selected from the visitors Each game has been hotly contested, each nine winning one game

All parts of the programme thus far have been of a very high order, and everything gives assurance that this will continue In many respects this is the finest assembly yet held here, an advance having been made in all directions Visitors are present from New York, Connecticut, Providence, R I, New Jersey, Boston and Somerville, Mass, Bangor, Brunswick, Belfast, Bowdoinham, Jefferson, Cambridge Waterville, Oakland, Skowhegan, and many of the surrounding towns Large excursions came Friday from Skowhegan and Smithfield Others are expected later

The attendance is large and the interest runs high Many interesting features are to be introduced during the remaining days. The annual sermon is to be preached next Sunday afternoon by Mr. W. W Bustard Mr. Kirk Monroe, the famous boys' story writer, is on the ground and is charming young and old with his stories and genial companionship. The assembly continues for one week, closing next Thursday night

Damage by the Drought

Our Enfield correspondent writes The first rain for several weeks began to fall about 4 P M Wednesday, wetting the ground quite well, but many kinds of garden and field plants cannot be recovered to yield more than a half crop if it rains every day for the next month. The drought took a deep hold in this section, the farmers only harvesting three-quarters of a crop of hay and one-half a crop of early planted potatoes.

It was a heavy shower that struck here that afternoon and when the two clouds met rain and hail began to fall and when raining hard Mr. A. Darling's got looking out of an open door and saw something strike the ground a short distance away. He supposed it to be a swallow that might have come from the chimney, but as he and his daughter saw it begin to jump they ran out to it and found a toad three inches in length and unhurt to all appearance and it can be seen in a tub of water. Now where did the toad come from?

It is a great year for berries in Maine. The raspberries have been unusually plentiful in some sections and the blueberry bogs are rich fields for the pickers. A skillful picker can secure a half bushel a day easily where the berries are thick.

A Bangor physician recently had occasion to prescribe some pills for a patient and the written directions were to take one an hour after meals. It did not strike the patient that this meant three pills, one after each meal, his interpretation being one each hour after meals, so that he was taking a great many pills a day until the error was finally discovered.

State Steamboat Inspectors Charles Staples, Jr., and Horace Atwood were in the city Friday. On Thursday they inspected the steamer Gypsy at Norcross and the steamer Mabel on Nickerson Lake. Monday next they go to Sebago Lake to examine the steamers there. The funeral services of the late Mrs. Hilton B. Jones were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her father on Essex street and many friends were present. The floral offerings were very beautiful. Rev. H. E. Foss, pastor of Grace church, officiated, and the Apollo Quartette sang. The bearers were Miss Alice Dunning, Miss Bertha Dunning, Mrs. Matherson and Miss Ward and Messrs. Baker, Warren, Porter and Mayo. Mr. Abel Hunt had charge of the funeral arrangements. The interment was at Pine Grove.

The concert by the Bangor Band, under the direction of Prof. R. B. Hall, of Waterville, last evening in Center Park, was very largely attended and the excellent music was much enjoyed. The band played very spiritedly and in close harmony and it was one of the most pleasing concerts of the summer. Prof. Hall directed the band very successfully and his cornet solo was splendidly rendered. The programme included several of Prof. Hall's compositions and they made a fine impression. His marches are played all over the United States. Prof. Hall will direct the band during the remainder of the concerts.

There was a narrow escape from a serious runaway accident at the Boston boat yard yesterday forenoon, in which Mayor Snow was involved and he came very near being injured, his escape being a rather remarkable one. He, with Mr. Frank Phillips, was driving out to the street when his horse was frightened by a passing train and in his excited movements reared to a perpendicular position and then partly fell over backwards, cramping and breaking one wheel and partially overturning the carriage. At this point the mayor leaped out to get hold of the horse's head, but he struck the ground under the falling animal and it was only by the merest chance that he was not crushed by either the horse or vehicle. As it was the horse recovered himself and dashed off with the carriage, Mayor Snow picking himself up uninjured to any serious extent. Mr. Phillips was still in the carriage and finally got hold of the reins and pulled the horse up before any further damage had been done.

A party of Bangor people had a very unpleasant adventure Thursday. The steamer William Conners left here early in the forenoon with two Catholic clergymen, ten Sisters from St. Xavier's and five young ladies on board for a sail down river, upon the invitation of Mr. William Connors. They started from Fort Point on the return at 3 P. M. and had gone but a short distance when they were struck by a gale which rolled up huge waves. When about half way between Bucksport and Fort Point a dory occupied by a man was seen. The boat had almost filled with water. The steamer ran along side the dory and the man was asked to get aboard, but he would not. Neither would he take down his sail and it was not until the dory had entirely filled with water and he had lost his oars and clothing that he would let the steamer take him in tow. He said he belonged in Portland and had sailed to the entrance of Penobscot bay and had been towed to Fort Point Cove. He was bound for Bucksport. It was 6 o'clock when the steamer reached Bucksport. Bangor was reached at 9 o'clock.

THE SECOND DAY

Of the Eastern Circuit Races at Maplewood Park—Some Fine Racing and Exciting Finishes Witnessed—Racing This Afternoon.

There was some good sport at Maplewood Park yesterday afternoon for the second day of the Eastern circuit races. The attendance was small. There was some hot work in all the events and the winner could not be picked until the last heat had been trotted. The 2.29 class carried over from the day before, was first trotted off, Dick West winning handily, with Rosa Victor second and Tough End third.

The 2.35 class was next called. There were ten starters in this event. Tommy K. had the pole. It was an interesting contest throughout, being well fought from wire to wire. Lucky Strike captured the first heat in a close finish, Black Blondin the second and Lucky Strike the third and fourth.

There were six starters in the 2.39 class, with Gipsey B. at the pole. She took the first heat and John A. the second and third heats, when it was discovered that the latter's driver was under weight and he was set back to last place in both heats. The judges decided that it was a case of ignorance of the rules on the part of the driver rather than any attempt at dishonesty and allowed John A. to start in the next heat.

In the second heat Denver finished second but was set back for running, Little Miss being given the heat and no time being given as only the first two horses are timed. Denver finished second in the third heat and was given the heat. John A. won the 4th heat. Denver proved a good stayer and beat him out, however, in the next two heats. Gipsy B. made a great try for the 6th heat.

The 2.25 class was unfinished, going over to this afternoon, darkness overtaking that race. Orono Boy secured the pole. In the first heat Camille finished first but was set back for running, Damosella getting the heat. Orono Boy made several bad breaks but made a grand finish of the last quarter, coming in at a tremendous pace. Orono Boy captured the second heat in a great finish, but Camille won the last two heats and the race went over.

The ball game was won by the Queen Citys, who defeated the Maplewoods 11 to 10.

This afternoon the 2.25 class will be finished and there will be a consolation race for horses which have not won anything. The races will be called at 3 o'clock and the admission will be 25 cents, the grand stand being free.

Following are the summaries of yesterday's races:

Railroad Development.

The railroad business in Maine is largely developing. The Bangor & Aroostook line has already achieved such a success as was never dreamed of by its projectors, and people who go over the road for the first time are amazed at the evidences of business prosperity which come to their eyes. The capacity of Aroostook was never half realized until the volume of traffic showed itself coming directly from within its borders.

The strong impetus given to business by the development of this new road has been felt very directly by the Maine Central. While the amount of passenger traffic is more or less affected the increase is most marked in the freight department. The tide of summer travel into the State has not reached the flood yet as the weather has not been severely warm.

And yet in almost every inland town, especially if there be a sheet of water near it, there are to be found summer visitors. Penobscot county is favored with other sections of the State in the annually increasing number of these visitors. It is not hard to account for this fact when one learns how well supplied the county is with marvellously beautiful lakes and streams, which abound with so many varieties of fish that the angler need never want for good sport.

Good Fall Shooting Expected.

Sportsmen are looking forward to a fine season with the birds next fall. It seems to have been a favorable summer thus far for the young broods, and not a few of them have already been "spotted" for the opening of the season, which this year comes September 20th, instead of September 1st. There is no question that the change is in the interest of the game and of consequent good sport for the gunners. The extra twenty days will give cooler weather for the hunter, and it will give the birds a chance to get bigger and stronger and wiser.

It will, it is thought, be found when the season opens that they will lie to the setter or pointer just as well as ever, but it will be harder for the pot-hunter and his barking spaniel to get a whole covey at one visit. The first of August will see the opening of the season on upland plover and if a man wants a chance to do a lot of hard work for his fun there will be good sport for him with these birds. To get a good bag of plover means miles of tramping, usually, and with all that a pretty expert use of the gun is necessary.

To keep free from summer diseases and indigestion, use the genuine Angostura Bitters, manufactured only by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

SIMPLY VANISHED.

Bangor & Aroostook Station Agent at West Sebois Missing.

Charles E. Wood, station agent of the Bangor & Aroostook railroad at West Sebois, is missing, not having been seen by anybody, so far as is known, since Wednesday, and inquiry in all directions by the railroad officials has failed to bring his whereabouts to light.

The official who went to West Sebois to investigate when it was found that the station was lacking a station agent found that four tickets to Boston, which sell for $7.50 apiece were gone but it is not definitely determined as yet whether he took these tickets or sold them to passengers who were going that way.

At any rate the official found no money in the drawer of the ticket office and the other railroad companies have been given information about the four West Sebois-Boston tickets. All conductors have been instructed to refuse to take them, while the public are warned against purchasing such tickets at second hand. All the other tickets in the rack at the office were found to be all right and nothing had been disturbed about the station.

Wood is known to have come to Bangor from West Sebois on the Wednesday morning train. He did not, however, come in to the Exchange street station, but left the train just above the toll and railroad bridges. Further than that nothing is known about him but it is thought he may have continued his travel further on.

The cause of his sudden vanishing into thin air is unknown. There seems to have been no particular cause and the only one which can be thought of is that he desired a change of scene from the quiet and seclusion of West Sebois to the whirling gayety of some metropolis and did not care to take the formality of a resignation.

Wood came from the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad where he had charge of a small station somewhere on the prairie and became station agent at West Sebois last April. He is about thirty years of age. A. R. Marshall, of Mars Hill, has been appointed station agent to fill the vacancy and has begun his duties.

While other candidates are named, men recognized as able lawyers and capable of filling the position with credit, Mr. Appleton is so well known as one of the ablest and most competent men in the State to fill that high office, that it is highly probable his candidacy will meet with endorsement by the next legislature.

INSANE HOSPITAL.

Preparations Being Made for the Excavation and Grading.

William N. Sawyer, of this city, who has been awarded the contract for the excavation and grading of the Eastern Maine Insane Hospital lot on the State street road, has begun preparations for the work and is getting the implements and tools on the spot in readiness for an active start.

The contract papers which are now in the hands of the commissioners will return to Bangor in a day or two and will probably be accompanied by the official notice to Mr. Sawyer to begin work; so that by the first of next week it is expected that sod will be flying and the ledge being blasted in an energetic manner.

It has been the idea of some that expensive work upon the lot was contemplated, owing to the location of the buildings upon the brow of the hill, instead of the side of the hill as at one time thought of, and a WHIG reporter meeting P. H. Coombs, C. E., who has had much to do with the preliminaries of the work, asked him various questions about the hospital.

He said it was the purpose of the commissioners in the excavation to take off from the top of the hill such material as they may need for the buildings and for other uses about them. The commissioners have directed that the gravel be deposited where it can be used hereafter in constructing roads and the other earthy material is for the grading about the building locations.

The ledge is to be blasted down to grade to give the desired quantity for the foundation stone and no more. From the blasting will result many stone chips which the commissioners have directed to be saved for the road construction. The contract price for ledge is $1 per yard for blasting and removal to a place of storage and as the market price for building stone, delivered, is from $1.25 to $1.50 per yard, a saving is reckoned upon there.

The next thing in order is the architect's plans, which are to be submitted to the commissioners by the latter part of next month, and a decision in regard to them will be followed by the arrangements for construction of the buildings which will form the hospital.

Memorial Services.

A Lincoln correspondent writes: It has been recommended by the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. that each lodge of the order hold an annual memorial service with a memorial sermon and also to decorate the graves of brethren who fell before the reaper Death. According to this proclamation Minerva Lodge, No. 86, I. O. O. F., selected two Sundays for their services. Their membership has been rather large and somewhat scattered.

Accordingly Sunday, July 14, was selected as the date of the service in Lincoln. The members met in their hall, dressed themselves in appropriate regalia and formed in line and marched to the Methodist church.

The house was filled and after a preliminary service Rev. R. R. MacDougall, the speaker for the day, delivered a sermon which satisfied all concerned. There are a number of the lodge's dead buried in Winn and Mattawamkeag and it was decided to hold a memorial service there on Sunday, July 21st. About 35 of the members went up from Lincoln and partook of an excellent dinner at the Riverside House. Proprietor Bailey did well. At two o'clock the line was formed in front of the hotel and we marched to the Methodist church.

They again listened to an able and carefully prepared sermon by Rev. A. R. MacDougall, who is a member of one of the best lodges in the State, Knox Lodge, No. 29, Rockland. Brother MacDougall is an Odd Fellow in every sense of the word. He believes thoroughly in its workings and does not hesitate to speak his mind on the subject. The memorial day was greatly appreciated by all and they hope it will become a stated occasion.

Tobacco Smoke Kills Microbes.

M. Tassinari, a Parisian scientist, has been experimenting with the smoke of tobacco and finds it to be one of the most perfect germicides and disinfectants ever used. In proving his claims smoke from a cigar was blown across a strip of linen which had been dipped in a fluid containing thousands of virulent microbes. When the cigar was finished, the linen was immediately placed in a bowl of beef broth, where common microbes are expected to breed and multiply very rapidly. To the surprise of the doubters, it was found that the smoke had had the effect of delaying the growth of the organisms; that the majority of them were dead, and that those which managed to live never fully developed.—St. Louis Republic.

TWO SHOTS AT OUR FLAG.

The American Schooner Carrie A. Lane Fired on by a Spanish Gunboat.

The American schooner Carrie A. Lane was fired upon by a Spanish man-of-war on July 14, and one of the schooner's crew narrowly escaped being killed by a cannon shot. Two solid shots were fired direct at the schooner. The vessel was made to heave to and give an account of herself before being allowed to proceed.

The schooner was off Port Antonio, fully 120 miles from the coast of Cuba, and making good time before a stiff breeze, when on the 14th inst she sighted a steamer flying the Spanish flag following her. Capt. Quick, of the Carrie A. Lane, at first paid no attention to the stranger, but after an hour or so noticed that she was signalling him to stop. He then examined her more closely but could only make out that she was a small gunboat.

While he was trying to guess why she was following him a puff of smoke curled up over the steamer's port bow, and a round of shot whistled uncomfortably close to the schooner's mainmast and plunged into the water on the lee quarter.

Capt. Quick gave the order to haul in sail and bring the vessel to, and while this was being done one of the crew ran out on the bowsprit. As he stood there the gun on the Spanish warship boomed again, and another shot sped on its way towards the American craft, this time coming so close to her that the sailor on the bowsprit swears he distinctly felt the wind caused by its rapid flight.

The Lane soon came to a dead stop and the gunboat drew up under her quarter. A boat was lowered and four Spanish marines under the command of a lieutenant in the Spanish Navy came aboard. They were fully armed, and their leader very civilly lifted his cap and demanded to know from what port the Lane had sailed and whither she was bound.

Capt. Quick gave the desired information and produced his clearance papers in proof of his assertions. No further search was made and the vessel was permitted to continue on her course without further molestation. Capt. Quick says that he could not get the name of the gunboat, although he tried to do so.

He adds that after the first shot was fired at the Lane he caused the Stars and Stripes to be hoisted at the peak, but the only response the Spanish vessel made to this was a second shot.

The gunboat did not hoist her colors until after the first shot was fired.

As soon as Capt. Quick reached Delaware Breakwater, Wednesday, he wired to his agents in Philadelphia, and will await advices from them before determining upon what course to pursue in regard to what he considers an outrage.

He thinks that the Lane must have been mistaken for a filibustering craft, but insists that there is nothing in her appearance to justify his belief. Besides this the vessel is well known to West Indian waters.

She was from Cienfuegos, Cuba, laden with sugar for the trust refineries.

FARM AND GARDEN

USE COMB FOUNDATION.

It Prevents Bur Combs and Economizes the Time and Labor of Bees.

Previous to the introduction of foundation the makeshifts for producing straight and even combs were many and the success uncertain. Comb foundation is without doubt the proper thing to prevent bur combs. It also economizes the time and labor of the bees. It is hardly advisable for the amateur to make his own foundation, that supplied by the dealers being cheaper. But one should never buy a pound of foundation from any but reliable dealers, as so much of the wax used is adulterated with paraffin, etc. This is particularly true of section foundation, as a little of the adulterated product there may condemn as adulterated otherwise pure comb honey.

No one, however, should undertake to dispense with foundation, particularly in the brood chamber. It is believed that bees consume 20 pounds of honey to produce one of wax. Hence when honey is 15 cents a pound $3 is its equivalent in made up comb. Sheets of foundation therefore from which the cell walls are built are not only a great economy in the time saved to the bees, but also in the honey saved from the process of waxmaking.

Another advantage of no little importance is the fact that by putting in full sheets of worker starter almost no drone comb is produced, the place of these idle consumers being taken by as many workers. The drone cells are larger, and worker starter is not easily reworked into drone comb, hardly ever, excepting perhaps a very little to insure drones enough for the safety of the swarm.

The very best of machines fail to turn out foundation in sheets as thin (1-180 of an inch) as the bees themselves make it, but it is nearly always worked down to proper thickness, the surplus wax probably going into the cell walls and rendering further economy in production. Broad foundation is made much heavier than section, the former being also produced by most supply houses in three different weights and the latter in two. Of these probably the medium brood and thin surplus are the best adapted to most needs.

As a matter of economy it certainly pays to supply both brood frames and sections with full sheets of foundation, as they are built out and filled much quicker. Sometimes, however, full sheets of brood incline to sag if the frames are large and thus stretch the cell foundations to a size favoring drone comb. For this reason some apiarists prefer only about one-third full sheets in the brood frames, while still more impress wire into the foundation to strengthen it and allow the use of full sheets.

As to cost of good foundation, the market price for wax of course is an important feature. American Gardening, from which the foregoing is reproduced, says: In small quantities the usual range of the various grades of brood is perhaps between 40 and 50 cents per pound; of section, between 50 and 60 cents. The heavier grades are always lowest in price, but represent a smaller number of square feet to the pound. Medium brood usually runs from about five to six square feet to the pound and is at present selling for 47 cents. Thin section, with about ten square feet, now commands 57 cents. These prices are in single pound lots.

Check Rows or Drills.

Professor Sanborn in his enterprise of extensive farming in New Hampshire waxes warm in praise of the two rowed check corn planter. He says:

It is a great thing to corn growing in New England when one can walk into a ten acre field in the morning before the ground is marked out and go home at night with it all planted in checks capable of being cultivated both ways and feel that not a hill is missing.

The editor of the Maine Farmer indorses the foregoing except that he works with a single row planter. He says:

Yet last year our planter planted an unbroken field of more than the above named acres in a single day between 7 o'clock in the morning and dark at night.

Whether to check row or not seems to be an open question, some claiming it a great advantage to work the corn both ways, while others entertain the opinion that they can work so close to the rows where planted with a machine that there is little more to be gained by the cross cultivating. Besides they claim more corn is produced from the half drill method of planting than with the hills so far apart as in check rows. Now, while at the work of cultivating and hoeing is the time to take note and compare the two methods.

A Battle Over Whiskers.

St. Louis is the scene of a lively battle between organized employers and the waiters in hotels and restaurants, etc. It is the same old strife over whiskers. The employers want the men to be clean shaven, and the employees refuse to allow the hirsute adornment which covers their faces to be removed. The trouble has even extended to the hackmen and coachmen, who have combined with the waiters and have taken a firm stand against allowing their whiskers to be removed.

They have been seeking to obtain the sympathy of the labor organizations of St. Louis, but the members of the Barbers' union are against them and are ready to cut the objectionable whiskers off, shave them off, chop them off—in short, anything to remove them.

The legislature has taken a hand in the trouble, and two bills have been introduced, one requiring all waiters in hotels, restaurants, etc., to be clean shaven and the other making it a misdemeanor for an employer to discriminate against an employee who wears a beard.—Albany Argus.

Not In His District.

During the last campaign the candidates were all obliged to run the gantlet of raffle tickets, church fair tickets, subscriptions, etc. One of the mayoralty candidates was approached by a tall, motherly looking lady, who sweetly solicited money for the missionaries in Africa.

"Africa," exclaimed the candidate, "not a cent. It is out of my district."—Wilkesbarre Leader.

His Ruling Passion.

"There's one good thing to be said about Thompkins. He is perfectly truthful."

"Of course he is. He is too stingy to make an extravagant statement."—Iowa Falls Citizen.

Massachusetts has appropriated $150,000 to fight the gypsy moth another year. Suppose Massachusetts had not cornered this pest and prevented its spread! It would have caused millions of dollars of loss to the country.
